

actual work, as one of the two copies of this list is in his hand and signed solely by him.¹¹ (Incidentally, Edwards, also Edmonds in the records, had a B.A. from Brasenose and lived in Beef Hall; and Reade held a B.Mus., and sang in Christ Church choir.¹²) Below I set down the meagre goods and chattels of this dead poet, as they are in most cases typical of the time, and give us a sense of what New Collegians owned—surprisingly little, in most cases. The valuations will have been estimates by the two men drawing up the inventory, who express sums in the money of the time, being pounds ('li', for £), shillings ('s', for s), and pence ('d', for d), where $\text{£}1 = 20 \text{ s} = 240 \text{ d}$.

Item in bills & bands	0 - 0 - 0
Item all his wearing apparell	xvj ^s
Item 3 peeces of greene bayes	ix ^d
Item 4 gownes whereof 3 were ouer worne	40 ^s

[16]

